

FALLS HEIR TO $70,000

Edward C. Shumm is Rewarded for Saving Friend's Life.

Was Here Last Week, Stopped at the Windsor and Got Into Trouble.

Because he saved the man's life in a poker game, E. C. Shumm, 1007 Newman street, Indianapolis, a former Rushville boy, has been left a fortune by Robert Royerden, his dead friend.

A true romantic Western story, with all the interesting details of made-up ones, is revealed by the coming to Indianapolis of C. M. Ward, Jr. of the firm of Ward & Spencer, Denver, Colo., attorneys for the estate.

About twelve years ago a young man named Robert Royerden went to Colorado from somewhere in the South and began working in the mines at day labor. He saved his money and finally took up some claims which "panned out." Royerden grew into wealth by knowing how to take care of what developed in his mines, and he invested the money in government bonds.

He was handsome, tall, athletic, chivalrous and all over of sport. The only person in the South for whom he ever cared and to whom he ever wrote was an old widow woman who had "taken him to raise," when he was thrown on the world by the death of his parents.

Six years ago Edward Shumm, of Indianapolis, who was then in the insurance business, went to Colorado for his health and became a companion of Royerden.

On one of their many trips to Cripple Creek, they "sat in" at a game of poker. Royerden had been drinking and was unusually jovial. During the progress of the game Royerden said something which another player resented and things began to look serious, when Shumm advised his chum to leave the game. Just as Royerden was about to leave the table the man who resented his remark, whipped out a big six shooter and would have put several holes through the young miner if it had not been for the timely interference of Shumm, who grabbed the gun before it was discharged, which enabled Royerden to escape.

In the course of six months Shumm came back to Indianapolis and went into the insurance business again, having fully recovered his health. The two men corresponded regularly for a while and when the letters gradually became less and less frequent.

Nov. 29, 1904, Royerden died after suffering a severe attack of pneumonia and a relapse. His estate was left in the hands of Ward & Spencer, attorneys of Denver, and when it was inventoried it amounted to something like $350,000. His will provided that it be divided between four persons—"my chum, Ed. Shumm," the old lady who had cared for him when he was a boy and two second cousins, "somewhere in the South."

"I can't believe it," he said, when the young attorney told him of the death of Royerden, and explained that Shumm had been remembered in the will. When Shumm reached home he did not stay in the house longer than to tell his mother that he would leave for Denver today and hastened away to make necessary arrangements for leaving with Mr. Jacob Frankel, the Indianapolis representative of the Security Mutual Life Insurance company.

Shumm is 21 years old, lives at 1007 Newman street, Indianapolis, and owns considerable property which he has placed in his mother's name. He is a son of the late William Shumm, by his second wife, who was formerly Miss Lillie Ballard, of Indianapolis. His father was the editor and proprietor of this paper about forty years ago. The family moved away and about thirty years ago they returned to this city and resided on the Elisa King farm, south of town.

Young Shumm is a half brother to Mrs. Lena Elliott, of Indianapolis, and Harry Shumm, of this city, who is now at the sanitarium at Oxford, O. His father was a son-in-law of Aunt Fannie Havens, of this city.

The statement in the Indianapolis papers, that Shumm had been missing and had been found in this city on Thursday, is not believed to be correct, as Shumm has not been in this city since Sunday morning, at which time he went to Indianapolis. He was here last week working insurance, and stopped at the Windsor Hotel. It is stated that just before he left Glen Miller, proprietor of the hotel, cashed some checks for him which were afterward found to be worth nothing whatever. The checks, it is said, amounted in all to $109. Mr. Miller is now in Indianapolis.

WATSON IS IN DEMAND

"Our Jim's" Reputation as an Orator is Growing Wonderfully.

Congressman Watson, of this city, who is now at Washington, is being overwhelmed with invitations to speak in different parts of the country. Louis Ludlow, the Washington correspondent to the Indianapolis Star, says:

"Congressman James E. Watson's reputation as an orator has grown wonderfully in the last two years.

His tour through the Western States with "Uncle Joe" Cannon in last summer's campaign added largely to his renown as a speaker. Mr. Cannon declares he is the most versatile orator in Congress. Just now the Sixth District Congressman is swamped with invitations. He will address the Clover Club of Philadelphia tomorrow; the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association of Baltimore, Jan. 26th; the Bay City (Mich.) Republican Club, Jan. 30th; the Union League Club of Brooklyn, Feb. 13th; the Republican Club of Erie, Pa., Feb. 14, and will lecture at the University of Michigan, Feb. 22. He has declined to address the Middlesex Club of Boston, Jan. 22, and the Kickapoo Club of Peoria, Jan. 31st.

In his speech at Baltimore Jan. 26th, Mr. Watson will point out the political and economical importance to this country of cultivating closer trade relations with South America and will argue that this can be done by subsidizing steamship lines.

NEW OPERA HOUSE AT CONNERSVILLE

Plans for a magnificent four story building with an up-to-date and latest style equipped opera house to be built in Connerville, is now being drawn up by an experienced architect of Cincinnati, and as soon as completed it is probable that arrangements for a contract will be made. The interested parties have a deal on at present to purchase property, which is a splendid location on Central avenue in that city.

WANTS THE REWARD

Attorney H. H. Evans and S. H. Brown, of New Castle, filed suit in the Henry circuit court Thursday afternoon against the commissioners of Henry county for detective E. C. Curry of Mechanicsburg, Ohio, to claim the $500 reward which was offered by them last August for the capture and conviction of the murder of Mrs. Starbuck and her three-month-old babe on the night of July 9th last. Now that Haley Gipe has been tried and found guilty and sentenced for a term of from two to twenty-one years, Detective Curry claims the reward, which he considers is rightfully due him for the work done on the case. This the commissioners have refused to pay, and the suit by Curry is the natural result. The case will be bitterly fought on both sides.

HUNDREDS OF FARMERS

Are Attending the Farmers' Institute Meeting at the Court House.

One of the Most Successful Meetings Ever Held, Began Today—Institute Notes.

One of the largest crowds that has ever attended a meeting held by the Rush County Farmers' Institute Association, was present at both sessions of the meeting today. The people began coming to town early in the day and by the time the first session was called to order the seats were well filled. All the papers and talks were good and much interest was manifested by those who attended.

The men's session opened with the invocation by Rev. W. W. Sniff. The high school Mandolin club, consisting of Messrs. Myron Green, Lawrence Root, Frank Lyons, Gladstone Barrett and Leon McDaniel, played the "Isle of the Winds. The music was good and was highly appreciated. Mr. Burton then gave his lecture on "Apple-growing Made Easy." The talk was highly instructive and was followed by a discussion led by Chris King. Mr. Agee, the instructor then talked to the farmers on "Wheat Culture," and he was greeted by the closest attention. Following the talk by Mr. Agee the different committees were appointed and the meeting adjourned.

At the men's session which convened again this afternoon, music was again furnished by the Mandolin club and Mr. Burton delivered another interesting lecture on "Effective Spraying." The discussion was interesting and was led by John Beaver. Mr. Agee talked on "Farm Underdrainage," which was followed by an interesting discussion led by R. H. Phillips, of Arlington.

The Ladies' morning session convened at 10 o'clock and was also largely attended. The program as carried out was as follows:

Invocation, Mrs. W. W. Sniff.
Piano solo, Mrs. Bruce Johnson.
"Lawn Decoration and Care of Flowers," Mrs. Laura J. Fitzpatrick.
Discussion, Mrs. Geo. Looney, Jr.
"Hereditry and Environment," Mrs. Laura Leonard.
Discussion, Mrs. L. G. Hall.
"Our Greatest Need," Mrs. Will B. Hill.
Discussion, Mrs. Will Cherry.

The second ladies session opened at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The attendance was larger than at the one in the forenoon. The program was as follows:

Music, High School Orchestra.
"Raising Chickens by Artificial Methods," Mrs. Fitzpatrick.
Discussion, "Turkeys—Selection and Rearing," G. O. Anderson.
Discussion.
"Keeping Poultry for Profit," Mrs. Fitzpatrick.

JAIL CENSUS.

Shows an Increase of Number Confined in 1904 Over 1903.

A census of the ninety-two county jails of the State and the Marion county work house, as compiled by Amos Butler, secretary of the board of State charities, shows that on Oct. 31 there were 944 prisoners, or just 100 more than on the same day in 1903. Seventy-nine of the numbers were women. Those awaiting trial numbered 269; 605 were serving sentences; 20 were insane; 6 were tramps, and 49 were confined for various other causes. Eight of the jails of the State had no prisoners on the day of the census and forty-five others had fewer than five. The highest number was in Marion county, where 121 were in jail and 193 in the work house.

The whole number admitted during the twelve months was 38,810, which is 3,330 more than were received during the preceding year. The greater part of this increase is found in two counties—Marion, included the jail and work house, 1500, and Vigo, 1242. Of the whole number admitted 31,552, were men and 2,258 were women.

PROMOTIONS

Congressman Watson is Mentioned for the Committee on Appropriations.

In the adjustment of committees incident to the beginning of the fifty-ninth congress it is expected that some of the Indiana members of the House will fall heir to better positions than they now hold.

Fredrick Landis, who now belongs to elections committee No. 2 and the committee on enrolled bills, probably will get a substantial promotion. He is being mentioned as Congressman Mier's successor on the committee on buildings and grounds. In the opportunities which it offers a congressman to serve his district this committee is one of the best in the House.

Congressman Watson has been mentioned for the committee on appropriations, but is doing his best to discourage such talk. His ambition is to continue on the committee on ways and means. Mr. Watson will be one of the guests of the Clover Club at Philadelphia tomorrow night.

CHURCH NEWS

At the U. P. church Sunday morning Rev. W. P. McGarey the pastor will have for his subject "A Pilgrim Strengthened." At night he will preach "The Secret of Courageous Endurance."

Millions upon millions of pilgrims visit this sacred shrine, the site of which has not changed in 1500 years, and whether genuine or not, it was important enough to bring about the Crusades—the most important event in the Middle Ages. "And for its defense, the best and bravest blood in Christendom was freely shed." Pupils cordially invited. Silver collection taken.

ACCIDENT AT MILROY

Jerry Mathews Killed by a Big Four Train This Morning.

Clayton Mathews, His Son, Escapes With a Broken Leg—Horse Uninjured.

Jerry Mathews, a well known farmer, living about two miles south-west of Milroy, was instantly killed and his son was badly injured in a horrible accident which occurred at Milroy about 9 o'clock this morning.

Mathews, with his son Clayton, were driving across the Big Four tracks on Main street in Milroy and did not hear or see the train approaching until it was upon them. The men were hurled a considerable distance. The buggy was demolished but the horse escaped with only a few scratches. The dead man was taken to Norris' undertaking establishment, not far distant, where it was prepared for burial and from which place it was removed to the residence this afternoon.

The injured son, whose right leg was broken at the ankle joint, and who suffered some bad bruises and perhaps internal injuries, was taken to the home of his father-in-law in Decatur county, where, his wife, a bride but a short time, was attending her sick father.

The train which struck the men was an extra south-bound and was made up of an engine and caboose. At the time of the accident it was running with considerable speed.

The arrangements for Mathew's funeral have not, as yet been made. The dead man was about about fifty-six years of age and was a well known and highly respected citizen. The family were preparing to move to Milroy tomorrow and the men had gone to Milroy to complete the arrangements. Mathews leaves besides Clayton two sons, eight and fifteen years old, a daughter, single, and two married daughters.

NEW POSTMASTER AT KNIGHTSTOWN

Deputy Prosecutor of Henry county, Charles R. Swaim, of Knightstown, upon recommendation of Mr. Watson, has been appointed postmaster at that place by President Roosevelt. The first announcement of Mr. Swaim's nomination appeared in an Indianapolis paper on Wednesday evening, President Roosevelt having nominated him that day.

Mr. Swaim is a young man, but a most energetic and snappy one, as has been demonstrated time and time again during the past political campaigns and while practicing his vocation of law. He has youth, vim and vigor, quick eye, alertness and requirements for the making of a good postmaster—one who will bend every effort to please and accommodate the patrons of the office. It will be several days, probably the first of February, before he will have completed his bond and received his commission and authority to take charge of the office.

HE CLUBBED HIS FATHER-IN-LAW

Samuel Griffin, Thursday while cutting wood on the farm of William Slager, near St. Paul, became involved in a quarrel with his father-in-law, James Johnson, over some money matters and clubbed him into insensibility. Several persons nearby saw the trouble and rushed to Johnson's aid. He was taken to St. Paul, where a physician dressed his wounds which were found to consist in a broken left arm, which was shattered just above the elbow and several bruises and cuts on the head. No arrest has yet been made.

STORES ARE CLOSED

Linton, Ind., Jan. 20.—There has been no settlement of the differences between the retail clerks and the Merchants' association, and there is very little prospect for an immediate agreement. Not a clerk in the city is working. With most of the stores closed Linton is remarkably quiet in a business sense. There is wide speculation as to the attitude of the coal miners toward the strike. All mines are running as usual. Three thousand are employed in the mines around Linton, and it is to the interest of the clerks to secure their indorsement. The miners are seriously inconvenienced by the strike, as they are unable to cash their coupons for food and oil, and placards are posted in the stores that no more checks will be issued until the strike is over.

OPPOSE PARDON

Elkhart Citizens Say He Never Has Shown Mercy to Others.

Goshen, Ind., Jan. 20.—There is a loud protest being made in this county against any measure to grant a pardon to Walter Brown, the Elkhart bank wrecker, now a convict in the Leavenworth (Kan.) federal prison, not alone from the depositors in the bank that was looted or the former political adversaries of Brown, but from almost all the people of Elkhart county. The Elkhart people point to the fact that Walter Brown never showed any man mercy. They also point to the fact that great sums of money were taken from the bank by him through the last few years of the wrecked bank's existence. They say they believe that if Brown is released he will be able to get out of the country and live a long life of luxury. They insist that before any pardon is granted some arrangement should be made by which Brown would tell all that he knows about secreted treasure and restore all that is within his power to the unfortunate depositors.

RUSHING THINGS

The Legislature is Getting Down to Business and is Advancing Important Bills.

Indianapolis, Jan. 20.—The legislature is getting down to "brass tacks" as some of the party leaders say when they get to figuring on the thirty day poll and the factors they must consider during the home stretch. The legislature, of course, is not nearing the home stretch but the members are getting so busy that it looks as if the decks will be cleared in plenty of time.

Many important measures are finding their way to the front. Senator Barcus, of Terre Haute, has introduced a new primary election law bill. Representative Gough, of Boonville, would carry out Governor Hanly's idea and forbid any member of the legislature or state official accepting a railroad pass. Senator Askren would have the time for electing township officers changed to the first Tuesday in August 1908 and every four years thereafter on the same date of the month instead of selecting them at general elections. He wants the office taken out of politics.

Senator Hancock wants an appropriation for a monument at New Albany for George Rogers Clark. Senator Hugg would arrange for the state board of agriculture to borrow money for improvement of the fair grounds. Representative Ruick would have Sunday baseball and exempt college fraternity houses from taxation. Representative Yencer wants a state highway commission. Senator Goodwine's bill for $235,000 to separate the industrial school for girls from the woman's prison has been favorably reported and Senator Hugg's bill raising the salaries of judges has passed in the senate. The bill of Senator Koehne to pension teachers was killed in committee. The Guirl bill providing for an amendment to the Nicholson law extending its power of remonstrance to two years against any and all applicants in a ward or township where presented has been recommended for passage in the house.

RUSHVILLE IND. JAN. 20, 1905

Political Gossip.

Indianapolis, Jan. 20.—The anti-saloon forces are moving with great rapidity in their efforts to secure strong amendments to the Nicholson law. The chances seem brighter than ever before that they will be successful as the house committee on public morals has decided to recommend the Guir bill for passage. This bill provides that one remonstrance shall stand for two years against all applicants in a ward or township where it is presented. It practically amounts to remonstrating against the entire liquor business of a particular locality in one effort. The anti-saloonists want something even more vigorous, but it is probable they will have to be satisfied with this single amendment. Representative Guir stated openly at the committee meeting that Governor Hanly will sign any anti-saloon measure the legislature will adopt. This remark did not cause surprise as the liquor men realize that the governor is against them. A similar measure has been reported favorably in the senate.

It looks as if the fine hand of Governor J. Frank Hanly will soon be apparent in several legislative matters. In his inaugural address he strongly condemned the acceptance of railroad passes by state officials and members of the legislature, and made no secret of his desire for the introduction of a bill for a law on the subject. This matter was never taken so very seriously by the state officials, nearly all of whom are said to either carry "annuals" or receive passes whenever they request them from the roads. Governor Hanly's statements did have the effect of causing some of the members of the legislature to send back their "franks" offered by the telephone and telegraph companies, and some gave up their interurban and railway passes. It is not very likely, however, that many gave up the passes on roads leading to their own homes.

The lobby is having harder sledding than ever before. Speaker Cantwell announced at the beginning of the session that he would not permit any lobbying on the floor of the house. This caused a smile from those who are familiar with the legislative scenes and who know how difficult it is to keep lobbyists on the outside of the railing. But Speaker Cantwell is keeping such a tight hold on the passes admitting people to the floor and has given the doorkeepers such rigid instructions that it is very difficult for suspicious characters to get in. Some of the members whose faces are not familiar are even having trouble passing the doors. If Speaker Cantwell does succeed in this line he will be establishing a precedent. It is noticeable that the lobbyists are sticking closer to the hotels this time than ever before.

Senator Will Wood of Lafayette anticipates a favorable report on his garnishee bills, which are now in the hands of the senate committee on judiciary. These are among the most important measures of the session. The fight on them will come when they are reported from the committee. There will be a divided report, as some of the members of the judiciary committee are not in favor of them. Senator Wood has modified them somewhat since the last session, as he expects the sick from garnishment.

Representative Gough of Warrick county has introduced a bill for a law to prohibit state officials from receiving passes. Of course this has caused a quiet sensation among the officials and members of the legislature, but it would be surprising indeed if this bill should be enacted, although it will cause some embarrassment for members to vote against it. Representative Gough says he originated the bill, but it is suspected that it embodies the ideas of the new governor.

The railroads are now playing their cards to prevent the passage of the Newhouse bill for a railway commission. E. O. Pickens, attorney for the Pennsylvania system, has presented a substitute measure modifying the Newhouse bill, but the shippers are already up in arms against it. The matter is not liable to be threshed out thoroughly until it reaches the floor of the house and senate.

READY TO VOTE

Army Appropriation Bill Subject of Consideration in House.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The house of representatives has completed consideration of the army appropriation bill and will vote on the measure late today. During the debate Resident Commissioner Degetau of Porto Rico, made his first speech in the house. He praised the united States for its attitude toward his island home. He said he saw no need for the maintenance of the provisional regiment of troops in the island. A vigorous attack was made, but to no avail, on the army transport service, by Mr. Humphrey of Washington. Consideration of the statehood bill was continued in the senate, and Mr. Stone spoke for two hours in opposition to it. The bill for the remuneration of American fur sealers who suffered losses because of their suppression was also debated at some length, but no action was taken on it.

Associated Stand-Patters.

New York, Jan. 20.—The attitude of Speaker Cannon toward tariff revision was endorsed by the American Protective Tariff League at the 20th annual meeting held in this city. A resolution also was adopted urging that the tariff be let alone "until such time as it shall have been clearly demonstrated by general experience and practical knowledge that changes in the schedule will be productive of a degree of benefit to the whole country that shall outweigh the disadvantages and the injuries resulting from tariff revision."

AMERICAN DIPLOMACY

Another Distinct Hit Has Been Made in Eastern Question.

Paris, Jan. 20.—The French government and other powers have received a communication from the American government, which if approved by the powers, will exert a far-reaching effect in preventing the territorial break-up of China when peace is eventually made between Russia and Japan. The American initiative in this direction is distinct from the recent note relative to Russia's protest against China's alleged breach of neutrality. This latter note treats of the continuation of China's neutrality in the pending war, but the other communication treats of Chinese territory after the war is concluded. This step is based upon information reaching the United States government that some of the powers are apprehensive that the eventual consideration of peace between Russia and Japan will lead to claims on portions of Chinese territory. The American communication tends to avert the possibility of such claims being made, thus ensuring a continuance of the present policies of the open door and the territorial integrity of the empire. The French, British and Italian governments have approved the American communication. If other powers approve, it will constitute a notable understanding that the powers will not make claims on Chinese territory when peace is ultimately concluded.

Gessler Rousseau Indicted.

New York, Jan. 20.—Gessler Rousseau, charged with sending an infernal machine to the Cunard dock a year ago last May, has been indicted by the grand jury under the section of the penal code which makes it a felony to send dynamite or other explosives to a steamship or railroad without label or other sign of its character. It is expected that Rousseau will be extradited from Philadelphia at once and brought to this city for trial.

Bank Pushed to the Wall.

Jennings, La., Jan. 20.—The doors of the Citizens bank have been closed. There has been a heavy drain on the bank for the past three days. The officers gave out a statement that the assets exceed the liabilities by about $70,000. No other statement was made. Commissioners will be appointed in a few days to liquidate the affairs of the institution.

A Double Tragedy.

Wilson, Kan., Jan. 20.—City Marshal Tillman shot and killed Sam Hutchinson, the postmaster and editor of a paper here, and then committed suicide. Several days ago Tillman whipped Hutchinson's boy and the latter scored the marshal in his paper. Later they met and quarreled.

FACTIONAL FIGHT

United Mine Workers' Convention Scene of Sensational Incident.

MITCHELL DENOUNCED

President of the Union Is Called a Traitor by Representative of Western Miners.

Mitchell's Defenders Declare Attack Is Animated by Socialistic Jealousy.

Indianapolis, Jan. 20.—An element of the Socialist party that has been trying to strike John Mitchell as a labor leader, dealt a blow at him in the United Mine Workers' national convention, and the result was one of the most sensational and dramatic scenes that have ever been witnessed in the miners' conventions. A delegate named Robert Randall, representing a local union at Dietz, Wyo., gained the floor and made a violent personal attack on Mitchell. He got up on the stand next to Mitchell, and, addressing him direct, charged him with having sold out the Colorado strike to the enemies of the miners, including the coal companies, the Parry organizations and Governor Peabody's law and order organization. He took an hour in his vituperation, which often reflected his socialistic beliefs. Several times the delegates showed a disposition to jeer him down, but Mitchell kept order and demanded that his accuser have a hearing.

Randall's speech had an effect similar to throwing a lighted bomb into a keg of powder. There were many speeches, principal among them being a statement by John Mitchell, who was visibly affected. He spoke an hour, giving the inside story of the Colorado strike. He explained that Randall credited to him power and personality that he did not possess as president of the union. There were speeches by Vice Presidents T. L. Lewis, Patrick Dolan of Pittsburg; W. R. Fairley, who was in charge of the strike, and Secretary-Treasurer W. B. Wilson. All went to show that the Colorado officers or miners had attempted to hold up the organization; that they even wanted a per diem for remaining out on strike; that they bled the national treasury under every pretext, and that instead of starving they received more money than the anthracite strikers got—figured on a per capita basis—and that there was a demand for enough for the strikers to live on turkey. It was also stated that the miners even had refused to put up the tents sent to them, unless they received pay from the national organization for putting them up. Mitchell told of his reception at Telluride after he had—as Randall had charged—"sold them out," and it showed that Randall's statements were not based on fact. Secretary Wilson lost no time in hitting at the source of the attack. He charged it to the Socialists and their plan of attack on all leaders in the trades union movement.

SECURED HIS RELEASE

Court Says Brodie L. Duke Is Not Insane.

New York, Jan. 20.—Brodie L. Duke, the half-brother of the American Tobacco company president, who has been kept in a sanitarium following his marriage to Alice Webb, was brought into the supreme court in Brooklyn and discharged from custody after a hearing before Justice Gaynor. The action was the result of habeas corpus proceedings brought by Wm. G. Bramham, Mr. Duke's private secretary, who alleged that Mr. Duke was deprived of his liberty without his consent and without due process of law. After a brief argument Justice Gaynor declared that Duke was not demented and ordered that he be set at liberty. Mrs. Duke was not present at the hearing, and her whereabouts is unknown. Papers calling for her arrest and removal to Texas are said to be on the way to this city.

Bristow Retires.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Joseph L. Bristow has retired from that office. Chief Clerk Conrad, who has been associated with Mr. Bristow for some years in the administration of his bureau, will be acting fourth assistant postmaster general until the appointment of a permanent successor, which probably will be delayed until after Mr. Cortelyou becomes Postmaster General.

Amicable Adjustment Promised.

Philadelphia, Jan. 20.—Though both sides are firm and not disposed to yield anything, developments in the controversy between the Pennsylvania Railroad company and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen indicate that an amicable settlement of the dispute may be effected shortly without a resort to extreme measures.

Seven Caught in Cave-in.

Antoine, Ark., Jan. 20.—Seven men were buried alive under a great pile of dirt and rock as the result of a cave-in by a deep cut north of Antoine on the Girdon & Fort Smith railroad. All the men who were killed came here with a large number of others from St. Louis and nothing was known of them locally.

DUEL TO THE DEATH

Three Were Slain in a Virginia Neighborhood Row.

Roanoke, Va., Jan. 20.—Meager details of a triple tragedy in Franklin county, twenty miles south of Roanoke, have reached here. James Abshire and his son fought a revolver and shotgun duel with L. A. Pradd and a man named Hilley, as a result of which the three first named are dead and Hilley, who escaped injury, is said to be in jail. It is said that one of the four men is alleged to have offered an insult to the wife of one of the other three men and that the four met on the Roanoke and Calloway pike, where the shooting took place. After the first round it is said that the two Abshires and Pradd were on the ground wounded. One of the Abshires is said to have reloaded his shotgun and deliberately blew Pradd's head off.

Women Defend Smoot.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Two prominent Gentile women of Utah, one a member of the legislature that elected Mr. Smoot a senator, were witnesses in the Smoot inquiry before the senate committee on privileges and elections. Both women gave Senator Smoot an excellent reputation and testified they would not vote for a polygamist.

Death at a "Belling."

Marletta, Ohio, Jan. 20.—While a party of young men were "belling" a newly wedded couple, John Moorfield, a well-known young farmer, was shot through the heart and instantly killed. Boys in the crowd were firing revolvers and it is not known who fired the fatal shot. The affair is regarded as purely accidental.

 Saved SHOE FEAST Saved

Last year was a winner for us. We sold lots of shoes, and mighty good ones, too, and this year will be even better. We're sure of that. We only reserve our fine grade Dorothy Dodd faultless fitting Ladies' Shoes. These are always sold at very low prices.

With this increasing volume of business we are bound to have a surplus of shoes, goods which we had to order from time to time to meet probable demands and keep our lines full. This surplus of mediums add winter weights is still in the store.

We have ordered more Spring Shoes, some of which will soon be on the road, and we must make room for them.

We are up against the proposition of getting those surplus shoes off our shelves, and quick, too. There is only one way to do it—by reducing prices.

We therefore place before you a cut-price feast that is unparalleled—an opportunity to get shoes for the rest of the winter and early spring wear, the like of which you never knew.

We'll bring prosperity face to face with every man, woman and child hereabouts.

"BEN-HUR."

Remarkable and Impressive Scenes to be Staged in Cin- cinnati, O.

The scene of all scenes in the religious drama, "Ben-Hur," is the miracle on Mount Olive, with which the performance terminates. This final scene in the drama shows the reunion of Ben Hur, his mother, sister and Esther, after passing of Christ into Jerusalem. The mother and sister of Hur, who were stricken with leprosy, have been cleansed by the Nazarene, and they are surrounded by a wonderful multitude, who sing praises to Jesus of Nazareth.

In this incident of the drama Christ does not appear as a personality. The curtain rises on the gathering of the multitude who come out of Jerusalem to worship Him, waiving branches of palms and singing anthems. The lepers appear, guided by Amrah, Christ passes higher upon the Mount. The afflicted ones raise their hands to Him in supplication and a great shaft of wonderfully brilliant light suggestive of His presence falls on their heads, and they are healed. In the book story the tale embraces the Crucifixion. This incident could not, of course, have a place in any dramatic presentation except the Passion Play, performed at Oberammergau every ten years as a religious rite, ending with the miracle scene. The drama of "Ben-Hur" maintains the religious interest of the story in a most remarkably effective way, at the same time treating it with the utmost reticence and respect. The music introduced in this scene is equal to that heard in Grand Opera. As the curtain falls, the chorus of 200 voices sings in canon form "This is Jesus of Nazareth," while the great orchestra renders the theme, "The Star of Bethlehem."

Over 350 people are employed in the enactment of this great religious romance. It will be staged at the Grand Opera House, Cincinnati, Ohio, for two weeks, starting Monday evening January 23. Rainforth and Havlin, Managers of the Grand Opera House will promptly fill all mail orders for seats, when accompanied by remittance and self-addressed stamped envelope, for reply. The seat sale starts on Thursday, January 19th, it will therefore be well to file your orders prior to that date.

A PLEASANT DROP IN PARTY AT GOWDY.

A jollier crowd of young folks who could hardly find this side of the Rocky mountains, than the one that marched into the home of Lucy Wagoner's at half-past seven Wednesday night, they marched in as though they were on parade, C. B. Land, leading, with Elmer and Elbert Redenbaugh acting as advance guards. Others present were Mrs. C. B. Land, Mrs. Elmer Redenbaugh and Mrs. Claude Hilligoss, Mrs. Orlena Shoppe and daughter, Arizona, of Moscow; Mrs. Stella Forsythe, of Franklin; Miss Amy Redenbaugh, of Shelbyville, and Misses Oma Land, Winnie Green, Golia Garner, Nellie Barlow and Pearl Brookbank, Robert Redenbaugh, Will Garner, Herschel Green, Ray Garner and Orba Land. Music on the organ and graphophone was enjoyed by all, and games, with popcorn crisp was the merry pastimes enjoyment. We shall always cherish those pleasant memories in our golden chain and claim it an honored link. Come again.

BETTER THAN OUR BEST.

Looking back may show us where we have failed to do as well as we could, or it may remind us that we have done better than we are now doing. Looking forward may suggest to us that we can do better than we have done in the past, or it may encourage us to see possibilities of our doing in the future beyond anything we have thought of until now. Looking up may indicate what God would have us do, and that may be better for us than either regret for short comings or encouragement to do better. Our duty as God shows it to us, that should be our aim, rather than an improvement on our past, on our highest conceivable attainment in time to come. Better than our best, as shown up to this time, or as hoped for in time to come is well in its way; but there can be nothing better for us than God's purpose in our behalf as he holds up the standard and the ideal.

H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

CHILDREN AND SUNDAY AFTER- NOONS.

"How to make Sabbath afternoons profitable and pleasant for children," is the title of a very valuable book of thirty-five pages, full of suggestions.

which at the same time exceedingly simple and intensely practical. Best of all, it is not theory, but the findings of an industrious mother who had four children of her own, and a heart large enough to show sympathy for other children not so well homed. The price is 20 cents, and it may be had from the author, Mrs. F. A. Welcher, Newark, N. Y.

Is not this a sign of the times? An official board of a leading church in Chicago, at a recent session pledged themselves to attend Sunday school, and to prepare for any work the superintendent might require of them. The reason given was their influence on the boys.

One day last week it was found that no minister was present to invoke divine blessing, so Lieutenant Governor Miller led the State Senate in repeating the Lord's prayer. It will be a blessed thing for Indiana when a great many more real Christian men get to be leaders in politics.

The sworn circulation of the various publishing houses of Sunday school literature, at the recent Pennsylvania convention showed an annual issue of 482,000,000 copies.

BY A MERE CHANCE

AN AMAZING INCIDENT

If This Was an Accident It Is So Astonishing as to Appear Well Nigh Incredible.

During the Firing of a Salute a Loaded Gun Fired at the Imperial Family.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—The ceremony of the blessing of the waters this year was accompanied by an event more mysterious, unprecedented and extraordinary than any afforded by the annals of Russian history. For a Russian sovereign to fall by the hand of an assassin is no new thing in Russian records, but that the emperor should narrowly escape death by a shot from his own artillery while he was engaged in a solemn religious rite, surrounded by priests of his church, is so difficult to realize as to be almost incredible. Yet this is what happened, and the Russian public is left wondering and mystified. By the merest chance the Imperial family escaped unhurt, but public opinion is stunned by what might have been the tragic result of the affair.

The festival of the Epiphany, the blessing of the waters, had just concluded when simultaneously with the salute fired from the St. Peter and St. Paul fortress, a rain of bullets swept over the little chapel built over the frozen Neva in front of the winter palace, where Emperor Nicholas and every member of the Romanoff family were participating in the service.

The emperor had a miraculous escape. The missiles came from a gun of the Bourse battery, which was loaded with grape. Some of the bullets actually struck the little open chapel in which the emperor was standing, cut the staff of one of the standards and fairly riddled the basement windows of the palace, killing a policeman outright and wounding an officer and three marines. Had the gun been aimed a little lower the charge of grape might have wiped out the whole Romanoff dynasty.

The suggestion offered that the gun was loaded with grape as a precaution in view of possible strike rioting hardly meets the fact that it was aimed with such accuracy at the chapel. Everything on the surface seems to indicate the existence of a deadly and deep-laid plot against the emperor, in which artillerymen were enlisted. It is understood that all the men and officers of the battery were immediately placed under arrest for examination. It is stated in official circles that the grape was fired from one of the guns of the Seventeenth battery of the First Horse Artillery of the Guard, the most aristocratic corps in the Russian army. It seems that at gun practice on Tuesday a loaded shell was inadvertently left in the gun.

Revolution in Sight.

London, Jan. 20.—The London papers today and their St. Petersburg correspondents take the gravest view of the internal conditions in Russia. The majority express the belief that yesterday's incident was a premeditated attempt on the life of Emperor Nicholas and maintain that the strike is much more a political than an industrial movement. In short, they consider that every sign makes it apparent that the empire is on the verge of a revolution.

TEXAS FRUIT LANDS

Produce Early Crops Which Bring Fancy Prices.

In Texas they begin shipping berries in April, tomatoes in May, Peaches in June, bringing fancy prices up North.

The growing season is much longer than in the North—a chance to make two and three crops, reducing the expense of "getting through" the winter. Fruit and truck lands along the Cotton Belt Route are very cheap as yet—$10 to $15 an acre unimproved. When put to orchard or truck they can be made to yield $100 to $200 per acre and more. Besides, it's an ideal climate—no long, cold winters. Write for booklet on fruit and truck growing.

MARDI CRAS, FLORIDA, THE SOUTH

Special Outing for Indiana Tourists via Pennsylvania Lines.

An exceptionally favorable time for a trip South is the special outing for Indiana tourists to be given this midwinter, offering an inexpensive jaunt for health and pleasure seekers to the famous resorts of Florida and the South, and also including two days' participation in the noted Mardi Gras festivities of New Orleans. A solid vestibuled Pullman train will leave Indianapolis Union Station 7:00 p. m., on February 27th, over Pennsylvania Lines. Points of interest along the route include famous battlefields—Lookout Mountain, Chickamauga, Atlanta, Savannah, the line of Sherman's "march to the sea." The tour embraces Ormond, the fashionable winter resort; St. Augustine, with its ancient Spanish battlefields; Pensacola, of naval interest; Pass Christian, "the Newport of the South"; Mobile, Birmingham, Nashville, with ample time for sight seeing. Two days will be passed in New Orleans during its great Mardi Gras celebration. Eleven days in the sunny South, away from the ice and snow of the North, and the cost including Pullmans, only $35. RICHARDSON, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Indianapolis, who will answer all inquiries in full.

MAY LOSE FIGHT.

As matters now stand it is doubtful whether township trustees of the State will win their fight for higher salaries. A majority of the members of the House committee on county and township affairs are said to be opposed to the trustees' demand for an increase of from $2 to $3 per day, while several members of the committee on fees and salary, to which such a bill might be sent, are saying that people of the State can't afford the increase.

While the bill to pay the trustees $3 a day may not pass, owing largely to the financial economy that will be practiced all along the line, it would not be surprising, leaders say, to see a bill passed giving them a slight increase—$2.25 or even $2.50 a day. A bill providing for the increase from $2 to $3 a day has been drafted, but will not be presented for some time. Its provisions are said to have been dictated by officers of the Township Trustees' Association.

DOINGS IN BASE BALL

Notes of the Sunday League—Columbus Papers Speak Highly of Carter.

The final meeting of the magnates of the Sunday League was held at the Palace Hotel in Cincinnati today. All of the managers of the teams were present, Manager Geraghty included. The final plans and other arrangements were considered, a schedule was adopted and other important business was transacted.

The Middletown Club, J. G. Miller, manager, is first in the Sunday League to announce its team complete, and from the following line-up it should stand well up in the race at the end of the season: Irish Lindsly, of last year's Connersville club has signed to pitch; Sid Eerte, of the Greensburg club, catcher; Willinger, of the Ludlow (Ky.) club, first base; Elmer Flick, second base; Johnny Fidler, shortstop; Jimmy Dial third base; Chas. Beckler, of the Connersville club, left field; Captain Ball, of the Ludlows, center field, and C. F. Bevis, of Rushville, right field. Manager Geraghty of the local club will give out the lineup of his team some time next week.

The Shelbyville Grays will be re-organized for the coming season. Manager Gray has leased the ball park a Shelbyville and is now looking after players.

Basil Seward, secretary of the local club last season has accepted a position as advance agent for the All Star Colored team of Cincinnati, which will tour the country next season.

Eddie Carter, short stop on the Rushville team last season, who is now visiting Dayton Kelley in West Virginia, has signed up with Columbus, O., in the American Association. The Columbus Dispatch says: "It's been a long wait for the fans—that announcement of the new short stop, but the face of Eddie Carter, the youngster signed for the position and under cover since last fall, is enough return for the delay. Columbus believes that in this young Hoosier they have another man who will give a good account of himself in that short field where where Bridwell made himself famous. Carter is a Rushville (Ind.) boy about 20 years old and a cigar maker by trade. He has played for two years on the Rushville team at shortstop. Last year he batted .297 in 67 games and fielded .938 on the rough diamonds in the towns of the Hoosier State, where the semi-professional team played."

Carter was first brought to the notice of Columbus through the Cincinnati team. They went out there to play one day and Win Kellum was in the box. Win had his twisters unmercifully slaughtered, and when it was over Carter had a double and a triple off his delivery, had stolen two bases and surprised even old Tommy Corcoran by his short field work. They wanted him down to Redville and would have given the boy a trial but for the securing of Bridwell.

Carter is said to be a man who can sprint 100 yards in 10 1/2 seconds. Any ball hit into the infield and slowly handled he is almost sure to convert into a hit, is the comment the Rushville sporting press makes on his ability. He batted against such men as McCord and Coons, the old Louisville pitcher, Jot Goar, formerly with Cincinnati and Graves of Terre Haute. They all looked alike to him. Carter is 145 pounds in weight and about 5 feet, 8 inches in height. Bobby Quinn went down from Indianapolis last fall and signed him and he has been held by the "silent string" ever since. Carter has been keeping in touch with Columbus all winter and writes from West Virginia that he is taking good care of himself. Carter is a man of President Bryce's own selection. He calls him his short stop. Bobby Quinn says that he will have to make good or the reputation of the president suffer. This ought to be an added incentive for Carter.

In regard to Carter the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune says: Billy Purtell signed his first professional contract in Columbus, and who knows but what "Kid" Carter, the latest addition, may some day go back to Rushville, Ind., and the eyes of the base ball world follow him when he does so?

Carter has the praise of everybody and one of the good things about him is that he is a short stop and not a base ball jack-of-all-trades. He never played anything but short, but claims to know that position.

Carter has good habits and not a head full of bad ideas. That will go a long way, too, toward making him successful. Columbus has always had one good youngster on its list every year and those who know claim that Carter will be the one in 1905.

"The Little Homestead"

The bitterness of friendship turned to hatred is vividly portrayed in the character of the villain in "The Little Homestead." Here is a man whose soul is consumed with a desire for revenge upon his one-time college chum for an imaginary wrong. His oath: "Wherever you go, whatever you do, I will be there in time to destroy your happiness. I swear to you that sooner or later I will ruin your whole life," he fulfills to the letter, by robbing the "young master of the little homestead, of his most precious treasure—his wife. But in the cruel execution of his vow, the villain works his own undoing and finds his punishment in death at the hands of a faithful cripple who has been devoted to the erring wife. The play is a charming emotional rural drama in which the characters are taken from life and set in the atmosphere of homelike New England. There is just enough comedy, the right proportion of pretty dialogue and a sufficient number of thrilling situations to round out a well balanced drama of heartfelt interest.
